FACTS AND STATS:

Jennifer McConnell works with children of all ages and their families by being passionate in promoting their academic, social, and emotional success, and she has special interest in working with young children. A licensed psychological associate, Jennifer earned her Master's Degree in Psychology and Education Specialist Degree in School Psychology from The Citadel, and she received her B.A. in Psychology from the University of Virginia. She presents a unique approach given her extensive experience in both the public school and private practice setting, and she incorporates parents at every step in her treatment.

Jennifer's specialties include assessment for learning disabilities, ADHD, academic excellence, and early childhood/kindergarten readiness, as well as individual therapy for issues such as anxiety, depression, oppositional/behavioral management, anger management, parenting, social skills, and organizational skills. She also serves as a member of the private schools admissions testing committee (CAIS).
